50th European Go Congress

29th July—12th August
Frascati (Rome)

Congress web site:

<http://www.figg.it/rome2006>

The 2006 Congress will take place just a few kilometers away from the center of Rome, in the beautiful town of Frascati, most popular of the Castelli Romani, famous for its magnificent villas and wine production as well as for its delicious food. Frascati is situated on the green slopes of the Alban Hills in a regional natural park, and is extremely well connected with Rome whose center is only 20km far. This lively small town from which you can enjoy beautiful views over Rome, is full of typical cafes, restaurants, and places of interest.

The playing halls will be arranged in the Aldobrandini Stables, which also host the Tusculan museum. The architecture of this historical building is composed by large spaces, all renewed in recent years. This congress center is located in the very center of Frascati.

Accommodation will be provided in the several hotels of the town that can offer a great variety of solutions from simple pensions to luxury.

Special conventions with restaurants will give Go players the chance to taste local specialities at a discounted price. Trips will be organized to wine cellars, villas and places of interest among the famous Castelli Romani area.

Rome itself will be worth of daily visits.

Entry fees (up to 15/5/2006, see web site)
